Results from our survey

During the last meeting in Telsiai all partners developed together a questionnaire to interview our learners concerning reading and writing processes. The aim was to identify the interests of our learners in any kind of media and to deduce ideas for motivating them to read or write. Each partner presented his results from the survey within the own institution. The presentations from each organisation will be uploaded on the projects' website and each organisation will write a short summary about the main results for our manual.

Due to the fact that the Austrian partner, the Alpen-Adria-University of Klagenfurt, does not work with the same target group like the other partners, they presented some results from the last PISA study.
